

WHY
BE AN ADVISOR
THIS SUMMER
AT MIDTOWN

June 20 - August 7, 2022
Chicago, USA

service

As a Midtown Summer Advisor, you will serve as a character-growth coach to a team of young men. Through regular individual meetings, Advisors work with each boy throughout the six-week program to develop and follow through on practical goals and resolutions pertaining to virtue, work ethic, a spirit of service, and friendship.

personal development

Volunteering at Midtown isn't just about giving to others. To give, you have to receive! As a volunteer this summer you will have opportunities built into an intense daily schedule for your human, cultural, and spiritual development.

- Professional experience and intensive development of in-demand skills in communication, adaptability, and emotional intelligence.
- Guest speakers, and discussions on contemporary issues.
- Daily Mass and times of prayer.

friendship

The Advisor experience will give you an opportunity to form deep friendships with the twenty other volunteers. For seven weeks, you'll share meals, work, sports, visits to local Chicago sites, weekend excursions, and most of all the common goal of helping young men grow in character.

Be a Midtown Advisor

Midtown seeks mature college men to serve as Advisors and role models to over two hundred 4th-12th grade boys during Summer 2022. Advisors must have demonstrated academic achievement and leadership ability. Previous experience working with young people is desired. Advisors should be motivated to serve as effective role models and to form genuine friendships with their students and fellow Advisors.

ABOUT MIDTOWN SUMMER PROGRAMS

Each summer over two hundred 4th-12th grade boys experience several weeks of hands-on academics, competitive sports, field trips, character mentoring, and fun. Students attend daily classes led by teachers or Advisors in subjects like math, science, reading, and public speaking, to name just a few. Sports foster a character-building and competitive learning environment. Advisors mentor their students one-on-one each week and collaborate with parents through phone calls and in-person meetings.

About Midtown Center for boys

Midtown Center is a supplementary educational program serving 4th-12th grade boys from low-income families in the city of Chicago. Since 1965 Midtown has provided academic enrichment, character education, individual attention, and extra-curricular activities for students, and parenting classes and discussions for parents.

Midtown Center is operated by Midtown Educational Foundation (MEF), a non-profit organization. The Christian orientation of Midtown Center for boys is entrusted to Opus Dei, a personal Prelature of the Catholic Church (www.opusdei.org)
